BRITISH THRUST
AT OIL ISSUENote Sent England Dealing With Amory Oil Concession.

AMERICA ACCUSED

Charged With Improperly
Attempting to Procure Annulment.

Washington, April 19.—The United States has sent a note to Great Britain dealing with the so-called Amory oil concession in Costa Rica and the alleged criticism by British officials of the action of this government in refusing to support the concession, it was learned here today.

The note was dispatched by Secretary of State Hughes on April 15, being forwarded through the American embassy at London.

The communication was in the nature of a protest having been prompted by the speech of a British official in the house of commons on March 1, during the course of which it was intimated that the American government through its consul at San Jose, Costa Rica, had endeavored improperly to procure the annulment of the concession of an oil company in which British capital was interested.

Similar charges the communication pointed out had been made on other occasions and the matter had even been referred to in a formal note.

The Tinoco government, Secretary Hughes pointed out, was revolutionary in character, was never recognized by either Great Britain or the United States and passed out of existence September 2, 1919.

Not Authorized.

The action of the American consul at San Jose, the note continued, was not authorized by the American government, though it was in line with the general policy of the United States in refusing to recognize the concessions of a "usurping revolutionary government."

"Nevertheless," the note states, "it is difficult to perceive how any such action during the period prior to annulment of the concession would furnish necessarily an occasion for justifiable criticism on the part of his majesty's government."

The Amory company was an American corporation, though it subsequently developed that British subjects owned much of its stock. From the revolutionary leader "Tinoco," it secured large concessions of potential oil lands in Costa Rica. The United States government had refused diplomatic support to American citizens seeking concessions from Tinoco and it never supported the claims of the Amory company.

Approximately a year after the fall of the Tinoco government, the new Costa Rican regime cancelled the Amory concession. Under date of August 12, 1920, just one day after the Amory concessions were cancelled, the British government notified the United States that British subjects were interested in the Amory company, this being, as the American note points out, the first intimation that the interests of British subjects were involved.

Late Tuesday.

Washington, April 19.—Accompanied by a party of official guests, the President and Mrs. Harding left Washington this morning for New York, where late today the president will unveil the statue of Simon Bolivar, the great South American liberator, in Central Park, and make his first speech as president away from Washington.

It will be a flying trip for the presidential party. Only three hours will be spent in New York, the president and his guests returning to Washington immediately after the ceremonies are concluded in the park.

In the presidential party when it left Washington were Col. George Harvey, the newly named ambassador to Great Britain, Senators Frelinghuysen and Edge of New Jersey, Brig General Charles E. Sawyer and others. The party will be joined in New York by other officials and many members of the Washington diplomatic corps.

It is expected that the president's speech will be devoted largely to Latin-American affairs and the need for closer unity between the republics of the western hemisphere.

The president will reach New York at 2:30 p. m. He will be driven from the Pennsylvania station to the Waldorf where a brief reception will be held and following that will take part in the parade to the Bolivar statue in Central Park. There he will unveil the statue after the ceremonies return immediately to the station to return to Washington. Enroute to the station a brief halt will be made at the "Light House," a school for the blind in 58th street.

The president and his party are due to arrive in Washington at 10:30 to night.

CALL ON DAVIS
TO FIX TROUBLE
OF ADJOURNMENTDifferences Said to Exist Between Senate and House Leaders.

DISAPPROVES BILL

Dayton Contractors Lose
Reimbursement on Highway Contract.

Columbus, O., April 19.—In view of differences said to exist between senate and house leaders as to the date for sine die adjournment, it is expected that Gov. Davis will be called upon to adjust the situation.

Rep. Grube, Madison county Republican floor leader, in the house, is credited with the declaration that no more bills will be passed in the house until a date for final adjournment is fixed. Some majority house members intimated that the house might take another recess if the senate leaders do not agree upon the adjournment date within a reasonable time.

The house today is scheduled to take action on the senate amendments to the Dunn bill, providing for reorganization of state departments. The amended bill was received by the house from the senate at the session late yesterday.

A resolution introduced by Senator Brand, Champaign county, authorizes the governor to appoint a committee of four legislators and three private citizens, representing varied interests, to "make a fair and impartial, examination" into industrial, agricultural, marketing and housing conditions throughout Ohio and report to the government as to facts and possible remedies.

Leader's of women's organizations, including Mrs. Harriet Taylor Upton, Warren, in person are urging senators to pass the Bing bill, amending the compulsory school attendance law, and the Schrimper bill, providing for a minimum wage for women. Both measures have passed the house.

Sending his first veto message to the legislature, Governor Davis told the house he has disapproved the bill seeking to reimburse H. C. Foster and Sons, Dayton contractors, $5,000 lost on a highway contract in Perry county. The governor said that such a bill establishes a bad precedent.

Tokio, April 19.—The Japanese government today made public for the first time the United States note regarding the island of Yap. Official comment was withheld.

It is understood that Japan will reject the American claims and that in its reply it will hold that if the treaty of Versailles contains a mistake then it is up to all its signatories to rectify it. Thus Japan would invite the reopening of the subject of mandatories by all the powers that signed the treaty.

Prof. Hayashi, councillor of the Japanese foreign office speaking privately today said:

"President Harding does not consider the effects and possible results of his insistence upon the American interpretation of the Yap settlement.

"Being typically American, Mr. Harding goes to protest against that settlement considering only the American claims."

"But to grant those claims would be committing the greatest crime in the history of Japan."

Washington, April 19.—The direct cause of the side collision between passenger trains of the Michigan Central and New York Central at Porter, Ind., on Feb. 27, which resulted in the death of two employees and seven other persons was the failure of Engineer Long of the Michigan Central train No. 20 to observe and obey the signal indication of the home signal governing the movement of trains over the crossing at Porter, the interstate commerce commission announced today.

London, April 19.—Every day makes it more apparent that France is eager to give emphatic support to the United States in the controversy between that country and Japan over the island of Yap. In return for this, as is equally apparent, the French expect America to give France her full moral backing in the contemplated policy of force against Germany on or after May 1, if Germany fails to meet the reparations demands.

L'Homme Libre, which is ex-Premier Clemenceau's newspaper, says today:

"Though England has not yet taken a definite attitude and though Japan frequently gave France much appreciated support in the supreme council discussions, France has deliberately placed herself on the side of America in the Yap question, wherein the Americans have powerful arguments in their favor."

The paper adds significantly that it is to be hoped "America will recognize in a certain measure with regard to the application of the treaty of Versailles."

The Echo de Paris says that the additional German territory which France proposes to annex is 50 miles long and sixteen miles wide and has four million inhabitants.

London, April 19.—Italy and Belgium will be represented at the conference at Hythe Saturday, it was learned today. The Italian foreign minister Count Storza is expected to attend in person.

Chicago, April 19.—Isaac and Rebecca Gitter, owners of a fur store, are under arrest today and police declare they believe them to be the agents of a syndicate said to have disposed of $1,000,000 worth of Russian jewels smuggled into this country.

Headquarters of the syndicate, federal agents believe, are in Montreal from where diamond runners brought them into the United States. Many jewels known to have been sold by Russian nobles in Paris are said to have been found in this country.

Government agents hope the arrest of the Gitters will lead to apprehension of the ring leaders of the syndicate.

"Backed Down" on Continuing War With Russia.

Washington, April 19.—In the judgment of Republican members of the senate foreign relations committee, Japan is trying to work a time worn diplomatic "bluff game" in her exchange of notes with the United States on her claims of an exclusive mandate to the Pacific cable base of Yap.

Senator George M. Moses of New Hampshire, a Republican member of the committee who saw Japan's representatives in action at the Russian-Japanese peace conference at Portsmouth in 1905, predicted today that on the "final showdown" the Japanese would yield to the demand of the American government for the internationalization of Yap.

Senator Moses was present at the Portsmouth conference as the secretary of former Governor John McLean of New Hampshire. He was subsequently American minister to Greece and Montenegro during President Taft's administration. His official stay abroad permitted him to "wise up" to the intricate game of international politics as it is played by the European chancelleries.

Same Kind of Game

"Japan played the same kind of a 'bluff game' at the Portsmouth conference she is now indulging in with respect to Yap," Senator Moses said. "I look for her to do what she did at Portsmouth when her representatives there were talking vaguely about her continuing her war with Russia if the Russians did not pay her large indemnities. She knew then she was bankrupt, and in no position to pursue her war with Russia any further fighting if Russia did not produce indemnities."

"Well Russia did not produce indemnities and Japan did not pursue her war with Russia. She 'quit cold,' she 'backed down,' and the war ended without her getting one cent of indemnity."

"The tactics Japan is pursuing now with regard to Yap are to me reminiscent of those she failed to carry to a successful conclusion at Portsmouth. Granting that the tone of her attitude has thus far been rather 'nasty' for a diplomatic exchange, I am confident, that in the end she will find some way to justify her yielding to the internationalization of Yap. That is exactly what I expect her to do. I am not discounting the seriousness of the snarl over Yap but to me it looks far more serious on the surface than underneath. In the end Japan will not retain any exclusive rights to Yap, mark me down as a prophet on that."

Deadlock Over Revenue
Commissionship Believed Broken.

Washington, April 19.—Advocates of beer and wine as a medicinal need had another ray of hope today.

The treasury prepared to clear the way for beer and wine regulations.

The deadlock over the revenue commissionship, the chief delay in promulgating the new rules, is about broken, Secretary Mellon said.

President Harding, it is said, will announce on his return from New York tomorrow the name of the new commissioner.

The new commissioner must pass upon the regulation. It will probably be among his first official acts.

Renewed pressure is being exerted to have the regulations, authorizing manufacture and sale of "beer with a kick," as well as vinous wines, of varying alcoholic strength, issued without delay.

Secretary Mellon, as a result has given word to speed up the regulations and have them in fairly definite shape for the O. K. of the incoming commissioner.

GRADUATE OF XENIA THEOLOGICAL SEMINARY TELLS EXPERIENCES IN HILLS OF TENNESSEE

Moonshine whiskey is still being manufactured on a large scale in the mountains of Tennessee, many of the "mountain dew" are still wary of "revenooers," the name they apply to the government prohibition agents, and people in the district still use the primitive means of gun or stones in getting rid of undesirable strangers.

So says Rev. William C. Ball, who is connected with the United Presbyterian Mission, at the foothills, six miles from Greenville, Tenn., in the capacity of preacher at the Little Church and teacher in the Mission Schools. Rev. Ball was one of the three members of the last class to graduate from Xenia Theological Seminary, while it was in this city. During the war he was a Sergeant in the First Gas Regiment.

Rev. Ball arrived in this city Thursday in search for teachers, to replenish the faculties of their schools near Greenville. There are now several Ohio teachers at the Mission including one or two from Xenia and Rev. Ball is anxious to secure more of these Ohio teachers to assist in dispensing knowledge to the little mountaineers.

Public education in Tennessee, still has much room for improvement and development, according to Rev. Ball. The Mission schools, although operated independently, have a much higher rank than the public institutions, and although they do not solicit outside students, many come to their doors. In the public school system, only an eighth grade education is required to teach grammar grades, and only a High School education for the High School teachers.

The Mission lies at the foot of the mountains in which mountaineers still distill the moonshine whiskey they love. With them it is an industry. They resent the idea that they are doing anything wrong or that the Government has any right to think that their trafficking in liquor should stop. Government agents make frequent raids in the mountains and bring back many stills, but they never make an arrest according to Rev. Ball. "They are afraid to," he said. "When they go after a still they always make enough noise to warn the moonshiner to get out of the way."

"We frequently run across stills in the mountains, while taking a walk through the woods," said Rev. Ball. "However it would not do for us to report the fact to authorities. If we did the mountaineers would burn our buildings, shoot us all up, and drive us out of the community. One day, while walking through the mountains, I took a side path, and after proceeding a short ways, came across a mountaineer with a double barreled shot gun across his knees. "Where you going, stranger?" inquired the moonshiner.

I told him I was just taking a walk through that section, and he said he guessed, I had better turn around and go the other way. One day, some of our boys found two barrels hidden in a clump of bushes on the hill. One contained a gallon of moonshine. I made them put them back, and the next day they were gone.

"The mountaineer will treat you all right, as long as he thinks you are treating him the same way. However, he is quick tempered, and let one little thing cross him and he is white hot right away. We have trouble with the boys in the school sometimes, when they get in little disputes. They always reach for their knives and start cutting, that being their idea of protecting their honor and obtaining retribution.

"If you become undesirable in the community, they do not hesitate to let you know about it. They meet you somewhere and ask you if your feet are sore. If you are ready to run, you tell them they are not, and start running. They immediately pelt you with rocks until you are out of the district. You do not have time to make any preliminary plans about going, when they decide they want to get rid of you. They just stone you out."

"Many of the children we have in school are sons and daughters of moonshiners. Two little girls in particular, are daughters of one of the biggest moonshiners in the mountains. He keeps out of reach of the law by skipping from one side of the state border to the other. He has made lots of money by this illegal practice, but refused to send his girls to school and pay for their education, so we are educating them ourselves."

Rev. Ball will only stay in the city long enough to see whether he can secure any teachers from this district, and will probably return to his Mission within a few days.

REDS PLAN MAY DAY TERRORS IN PARIS THIS YEAR

Paris.—The annual campaign to create a reign of terror in Paris on May Day has just been launched by French Communist leaders.

The first shot is an article in the Communist organ, Humanite, inviting "120,000" unemployed of Paris to march on the gilded palaces of Montmartre as a demonstration against the reckless expenditure of money by Americans, South Americans, English and French "newly rich."

This article it is understood, will shortly be followed by others with the object of stirring up the unemployed to a great manifestation on the first day of May.

"We cannot better symbolize the scandalous state of present day morals than to point out to the 120,000 unemployed in Paris the character and costly advertisements and the clientele of the Montmartre establishments where a small minority spend their nights," begins Humanite. "With the official complicity of the police, a band of profiteers are exploiting the newly rich and the foreigners under every possible form."

COMPLAIN OF PRICES

"Since the armistice and even during the last six months these night 'joins' have continued to multiply. An entire section of Paris (Montmartre) is infested with them. They serve champagne suppers at outrageous prices. Some of them are full until daybreak despite solemn police regulations that provide for their closing at 2 a. m. And the only answer the police give is this: 'Well, we can't all be bishops.'"

The personnel of these places include in addition to the waiters, wine merchants and professional dancers a horde of young and old women, more or less undressed for the benefit of the clients some musicians and a few detectives. The clients spend fortunes every night. One night all the unemployed of Paris should march on the Place Pigalle (centre of Montmartre) to show these reckless spenders their misery."

The police have taken no extra precautions as a result of the Communist appeal. Most of the Montmartre night establishments lie along the narrow streets, or intersecting the Rue Pigalle. Previous experience in May Day rioting especially around the Place de la Republique has taught the French police that such a section can easily be defended against mobs.

REDUCED FARES FOR DELEGATES AT OHIO STATE AUTO MEETING

Reduced railroad rates have been obtained for delegates attending the annual state convention of the Ohio State Automobile Association, which is to be held in Cincinnati, under the auspices of the Cincinnati Motor Club, April 22 and 23.

It is necessary to have 350 people attending the convention to secure these rates, but the Association is anticipating more than three times this number. Delegates will be asked to pay the regular rate one way, and ask for a certificate, which they are to present to the state secretary, who will validate it. By presentation of this certificate at the ticket office on the return trip, a ticket can be purchased at half-price. The certificate is not good on Pullman fares however.

The entertainment committee of the Cincinnati Motor Club, has collected a large fund for the entertainment of visitors at the convention. The ladies present will be entertained, Friday, while the men are in the convention, and Friday night there will be a banquet in the ball room of the Sinton hotel. There will be speakers of state and national importance, and musical and other entertainment provided, with a ball following, at which all attending are invited free.

Saturday there will be an automobile trip for the delegates and their ladies, along the boulevards and parks in Cincinnati, with a visit to the Zoo at noon, where the Cincinnati Motor Club will serve luncheon. Other forms of entertainment will also be provided.

NO FROST MONDAY; BRIGHT OUTLOOK FOR COUNTY FRUIT

Fruit growers were more optimistic concerning the outlook for fruit in Greene County Tuesday than they have been for some time.

The heavy frost presaged for Monday night did not materialize, although the night was clear and cool, and there was no damage whatever to crops from the cold weather that set in Sunday, according to the fruit growers.

Only the first two cold spells, that have come about since the fruit began to bud, are to blame for all the damage done so far, it is said. Since the second frost the fruit growers have had no opportunity to examine the fruit over their orchards more carefully now, and they are more optimistic concerning the quantity that will be saved than they were for a time.

Reports from the Stryker & Padgett fruit farm say that both the cherry and apple crops, are looking better now than it was at first thought. An examination has shown that at least all of the crop has not been killed of either the apples or cherries, and while it is impossible to say just how much of either of these fruits will be saved, it is said that considerably more will be obtained than was at first anticipated. There is still little hope, however, for peaches, although there may have been a few escape, while pears are practically all gone as are also plums.

The grapes were the hardest hit of any fruits, according to word from Stryker & Padgett. The first and second heavy frosts practically ruined the entire crop of the vineyard. Recently warm weather has brought out a few new buds on the grape vines, but all the first buds were ruined in the two heavy frosts of several weeks ago, and it will be impossible to realize much of a crop from the vines this year, it is said.

POMP AND CEREMONY ATTEND FUNERAL OF EX-GERMAN EMPRESS

Potsdam, April 19.—Augusta Victoria, "empress of sorrow" was laid to her last rest here today in the "antken temple," an unique mausoleum just off the palace of San Souci built by Frederick the Great. The old Prussian king had named it so because it was the place where he forgot his cares and sorrows.

The funeral of the ex-empress was the most imposing event seen within the former German empire since the days of Hohenzollern reign.

The special train carrying the former kaiserin's coffin arrived at Wildpark station here promptly at 10:45 o'clock last night.

At 9:15 o'clock this morning four pitch black horses with black plumes waving from their heads drew up in front of the railway station with the imperial hearse when was decorated with four bunches of black plumes.

A thousand former army and navy officers in gala uniform stood in military formation around San Souci palace while others lined both sides of the avenue leading to the Neues Palace.

At 9:30 the ex-crown princess Cecilie, accompanied by the royal princes and princesses and former court functionaries arrived at Wildpark station.

Picked officers of the "Queen's Own" cuirassier and fusilier body guards (Augusta Victoria was queen of Prussia in addition to being German empress) acted as pall bearers assisted by former court servants, removed the coffin from the funeral car.

In pomp and magnificence it lacked nothing of the old time imperial display.

At this cabing no untoward incident had occurred although the atmosphere was tense, particularly in Berlin, where, according to telephonic advice, the authorities are thoroughly prepared for any attempt by the extremists or conservatives to make the funeral of the ex-empress the occasion for a demonstration.

Vantage points along the route of march were rented long in advance at high prices.

Chairs in hotel lobby windows alone brought from 600 to 800 marks while window seats along the line of the procession sold for as much as 2,000 marks. The old imperial colors fluttered at half mast from nearly every building.

WEDDING FEAST STOLEN. Dayton, O., April 18.—Coming early in the night, during a wedding party at the home of Rhinehart Wentzel, thieves took his roast duck and three roast chickens, returning later and taking 35 gallons of wine. The party then broke up.

OHIO INSURANCE INSPECTION BUREAU CONDUCTS SURVEY OF CITY FIRE HAZARDS

On the report of two representatives of the Ohio Insurance Inspection Bureau, who investigated this city's fire fighting resources Monday, hangs the question of whether Xenia's classification for fire insurance rates will be raised, lowered or allowed to stand where they are.

Howard Manning, engineer with the Bureau, and a Mr. Winard, who served 23 years on the Columbus fire department, and is now an inspector with the Bureau, were the men who conducted the inspection here Monday. Their examination covered Xenia's fire fighting apparatus, its alarm system, its water distributing system, its streets, whether paved, or unpaved, its water plants and water pressure.

Both men were non-committal Monday afternoon following their inspection and would not disclose much in regard to their ideas as to the standing this city will receive on its present equipment and facilities. They returned to Columbus Monday and their report will follow later, with a decision of the Bureau on the classification, which, according to local insurance men, is final.

AMERICAN GROWS RICH IN ROME BY LABORING GRATIS

London.—An American, Henry Cohn, has acquired riches in the city of Rome without any great difficulty.

Prior to the war Cohn was passing a fountain, and his curiosity was aroused by the fact that English and American tourists were throwing copper coins into the water.

He sought enlightenment from his guide, who, after throwing in a coin, explained that if the visitors did not throw in a coin and hit the fountain every time they passed they would never return to Rome.

Cohn was struck with the idea that a considerable sum of money must be lying at the bottom, and after counting the number of coins that were thrown in in an hour, he entered the municipal offices and offered to clean out this and other fountains.

His offer was declined, as there were no funds available for the purpose, but when the American offered to do the work for nothing no objection was raised.

Cohn engaged a number of men to clean out the other fountains but he devoted himself to the large one that was the target of the tourists.

Now he runs an expensive motor car.

TREAT IS IN STORE WEDNESDAY NIGHT

All lovers of popular music and popular entertainment will be afforded a special treat Wednesday night when Mamie Smith, the well-known colored phonograph star and her Famous Jazz Hounds will appear at the Opera House under arrangements with the Standard Amusement Company.

In her present tour, the colored star and her company have been welcomed by large audiences everywhere, and her success at Memorial Hall, Dayton, last week, attested to her popularity among exponents of modern jazz. Especially good are her Jazz Hounds, who manage to find a number of sweet strains in their instruments that have been hitherto undiscovered.

Besides the star, there are a number of vaudeville numbers that pep up the show and make it one of the best revues that has ever appeared here. Included in the support are Minstrel Morris, the comedy juggler, Horace Georgia, the clarinet king, who plays three clarinets at one time, Parker & Mack, a clever song and dance pair, Jackson & Cross who mingle comedy with music and Barth Kennet & Company a magician of more than passing power.

START IMPROVEMENTS ON WEST SECOND ST.

West Second Street is the scene of many improvements at present. The foundation is being laid by Contractor Frank McCurran on the site of the apartment house next to the Baldwin property, for the erection of a handsome home for Mr. McCurran.

The brick structure next to the home of Dr. W. H. Finley is being torn down by Dr. Finley. The ground where the house stood will be used for the extension of the Finley lawn. The property of Elton Smith across the street from the Finley property is being moved back several feet from the sidewalk. Other repairs will probably be done on the house. The work of moving the building is being done by Jeffries and Hodge, local contractors.

KIDNEY SUFFERERS Benefitted Beyond Belief.

Cincinnati, O., July 25, 1920. After having been relieved of kidney trouble of several years standing by Dr. Carey's Marshroot prescription No. 777 am exceedingly grateful and loud in its praise—have recommended it to several fellow-workers who were also benefited beyond their belief by its use. It is my candid opinion that there is no better remedy than Dr. Carey's Marshroot.

August 3rd I received your letter asking permission to produce my letter to you (as above). If it will in any way help people to realize the true merits of Dr. Carey's Marshroot prescription you are at liberty to do so. I know that it cured me. I suffered great pains for several years and am certainly grateful and feel confident that if people who have kidney trouble will use it long enough to give it a fair test there will be more grateful ones added to the list.—John E. Douglas 103 West Court Street, Cincinnati, Ohio.

Note.—Dr. Daniel G. Carey, the well known kidney specialist of Elmira New York, who died recently, declared that his great prescription, No. 777 Marshroot, had helped thousands of sufferers from kidney and bladder troubles. Remember the name, Dr. Carey's Marshroot Prescription No. 777. No other medicine takes its place! Sayre & Hemphill.

GREENSBURG MACHINIST DROPS A THOUSAND DOLLARS EASY

Spent His Money Uselessly Trying Different Remedies to Rid Himself of Digestive Troubles, But Had No Success Until He Tried Nerv-Worth, and This Soon Ended Indigestion.

"I have spent at least a thousand dollars in an endeavor to rid myself of indigestion and stomach trouble, which I have had for 20 years, but got no results. My stomach and digestion, together with extreme nervousness, caused me to lose much valuable time. For the last 11 years I have been a machinist foreman of the Kelly-Jones Co. of Greensburg, and my time was worth money. I was compelled to lay off 10 weeks not long ago. Doctors said they could give me only temporary relief. Finally I saw Nerv-Worth Advertisers and determined to try it, and I am glad to say that now after using only part of a bottle, I am no longer troubled with indigestion or nervousness and I have gained in weight instead of losing weight, as formerly. I can eat anything I want when I want it, and I thoroughly agree with me. I most cheerfully recommend Nerv-Worth to all for it has done more than the makers claimed for it. Thus wrote D. F. Smith, who resides at 122 N. Maple Avenue, Greensburg, Pa. You will find that if you suffer as Mr. Smith suffered, Nerv-Worth will quickly give you health. It will aid and benefit your whole digestive system, relieve your nervous condition, and tone and invigorate you throughout. If it doesn't benefit you after you have taken your first bottle your money will be refunded. Sold on a money-back guarantee by Sayre and Hemphill and all leading druggists everywhere.

FRANCE DETERMINED TO MAKE GERMANY PAY UP.

President Millerand, Marshal Foch, Premier Briand and a score of the most important political and military officials of the French Government held an extraordinary conference Friday such as in the old days was tantamount to a grand council of war.

It is understood that a complete plan for the invasion of the Ruhr Valley was approved by Marshal Foch and his technical advisers, and furthermore the French consider it is not necessary to notify Berlin of their intentions. They have taken the attitude that Germany has been warned sufficiently and that if at midnight of April 30 there has not been the payment of 1,000,000,000 francs due by Germany to the Reparations Commission March 23 last and 11,000,000,000 francs in addition which is due to make the 12,000,000,000 total due May 1, the French will simply use the economic and military sanctions under the treaty and march eastward into Ruhr.

PAYING BILLS IN HARD TIMES.

It is very bad business to let hard times be the excuse for holding out on one's bills.

When a man is doing what we may call 100 percent of business making 100 percent of collections, saving or investing 10 percent of his income and paying 90 percent immediately on bills, things are made easy for everybody.

Suppose a depression comes along and this man gets in only 50 percent as much money as he has been getting. His natural tendency is to become frightened and go around with a long face, worrying for fear his family won't be able to eat next month.

Multiply this man by several million and you have the makings of a fine, large slump, all mixed up with bank failures, business bankruptcies and miseries and hunger.

But if that man will take his $50 and disburse it in just as nearly the usual proportion as he can possibly arrange, thus getting every cent of it out of his hands and into the next man's by the end of the month, and if he will go around with a cheerful face, telling everybody this reaction from extravagance was bound to come, but it can't last long if everybody keeps going and spends his money, why, that's different.

Multiply his faith and cheer and flow of coin by the same several million as before, and the makings of prosperity are ready to go into the oven. Nor will this product fail. Confidence is pretty good baking powder and hard work produces well-beaten eggs. Add the raisins of justice between man and man, and you have a cake worth eating.

Paying every little bill with the greatest possible promptness is one of the surest ways to hasten the coming of good times.

HOW THE UNITED STATES FED AND CLOTHED MANY MILLIONS OF EUROPEANS AFTER THE WAR.

At one time following the armistice 75,000,000 persons in Europe lived on charity and the major part of the burden of feeding, clothing and sheltering them was borne by the United States, according to Secretary Herbert Hoover.

Charity on such a gigantic scale was, however, only one among hundreds of problems of equal magnitude which faced this country and its Allies in the economic chaos that came in the wake of the war.

A lucid review of those problems and the manner in which they were met was given by Mr. Hoover in an address at Philadelphia on Friday.

Summarizing toward the end of his talk, Secretary Hoover said:

It is sufficient for this occasion to say that America bore the major burden in negotiating these arrangements, and that her disinterestedness, her sense of service, carried Europe through this, the most terrible period in its history."

Mr. Hoover made it clear that it was the American point of view which triumphed in the Supreme Economic Council, to which was entrusted the titanic task of bringing order out of economic chaos, of fighting anarchy with food, of restoring transportation and commercial intercourse between the nations to a near-normal condition and of rehabilitating industry to a point where the barest needs of starving and homeless millions could be supplied.

And he emphasized that, if it had not been for American initiative and action, those vital tasks would never have been accomplished and all of Europe today probably would be in the ruthless grip of bolshevism.

THE FARMER SOWS HIS SEED.

Considerable discussion has raged during the winter over the probable reduction of crop area in planting this spring. Reliable information from the chief agricultural regions of the country indicates that normal acreage will be maintained this year by American farmers in spite of low prices and adverse conditions. Cotton seems to be the only exception of any importance.

This report indicates the true spirit of the American farmer, his optimism in the face of discouragement and his actual love of his job and of the acres which he tills. In an era given over to industrial unrest and slacking, it is a comfort to turn to the annals of agriculture. The farmer may complain, he may rail at the government, at the weather, the consumer and fate, but when planting time comes he plants.

It is the claim of the soil which keeps nations sound. It is the claim of the soil which brings them back to order out of chaos. Russia will emerge presently from her welter, the greatest exponent of this truth. Her farmers will save her.

"Thus the farmer sows his seed," chant the school children, circling in the spring sunshine—prophets at play—for, sure enough, he does! And it is well for the nation that this is true.

AFTER THEY GET THROUGH BEING SORRY FOR THEMSELVES THEY MIGHT SEE WHAT THEY CAN DO FOR THE MAN THEY RAN INTO.

1901--Twenty Years Ago--1921

The annual dinner of the young lady graduates of the cooking school at the O. S. & S. O. Home was given today. The feast was spread in the assembly hall of the School building and was prepared by the young ladies composing the class. Their future husbands need have no fear of dyspepsia with viands served in the manner of this dinner.

Mr. Ed. Davidson landed a channel cat fish last night which weighed seven pounds, and in consequence he thinks he is somewhat of a fisherman.

Mr. Fred Nesbit who was for several years connected with the Drees Hardware store has taken a position with the Xenia House Furnishing Company. Fred will make an able assistant for the firm in his new position.

Several members of the Board of Education for the City of Xenia went to Tippecanoe this morning where they will inspect several school buildings with a view of getting pointers for the erection of the new structure in this city.

Mr. C. C. Henri has been given the contract for the galvanized iron, tin and slate work for the new dormitory now being erected at Wilberforce.

Is It Yours?

LUCRETIA GARFIELD

April 19, 1832.

The wife of President Garfield was born as Lucretia Rudolph, in the small town of Hiram, Ohio. She was one of the least well-known of the mistresses of the White House, for she was very quiet and domestic. She devoted most of her time to her seven children and preferred a quiet family life to that of a social leader.

She was a farmer's daughter, brought up in the same simple, hard-working fashion as her husband, who was a farmer's son. She came of a very good family and she herself was rather studious. She met her future husband at the Institute in Hiram, which later became Hiram College. Garfield was also studying there, having discarded an ambition to be a sailor, in favor of being a teacher.

She taught school after she graduated and once more came in contact with the man she was to marry. Garfield had gone to Williams College and was then in Hiram as a teacher. Lucretia taught until 1859, when they were married.

Garfield became more and more prominent and more frequently spoken of as a future great man. He was not one of our most popular Presidents and he was elected after a much opposition. Mrs. Garfield cared very little for an ambitious future. As a matter of fact, the brilliant social life expected of a President's life was more or less distasteful to her.

She lived for many years after her husband's death.

HOLD FIRST DRILL IN STOCK JUDGING

The three stock judging classes composed of boys and girls of the seventh and eighth grades and high schools of Supervisory District four will have their first drill and recitation Thursday.

The class in Xenia township will meet at James Hawkins' stock farm 9 o'clock in the morning. The Spring Valley township class will meet at Jesse Harner's farm at 12:30. The Sugar Creek township group will convene at the Talbot stock farm at 2:30.

These classes will be instructed by Prof. Dowdy of the O. S. U. and the pupils will be in charge of Supt. D. H. Barnes. Attention will be given to beef cattle only, Thursday. These classes will come together once each month for stock judging under a competent instructor.

BOXING BOUTS IN MAINE ARE FAKED

Augusta, Me.—Jack Magee, athletic coach at Bowdoin College, declared before the committee on judiciary that three out of every five boxing bouts in Maine are faked.

This statement was made at the hearing on the bill to regulate boxing, drawn by John D. Clifford, Jr., a Lewiston, attorney, introduced in the house by Rep. Benedict F. Mather of Augusta.

In his statement to the committee, Magee said that under the present laws of Maine the Massachusetts boxers who come into this state for shows get together beforehand and "frame" their bout to box through six rounds and loaf through the last six rounds and then rush to a telephone and tell the sporting writers that each won the bout.

Practical Business Talks

THE ROLLER TOP DESK.

The dear old roller top desk is slowly being doomed. What a friend it used to be for the careless man.

Closed up at night, a chap could almost convince himself that all of his day's work had been cleared away, every important paper filed, and that he could start with a clean slate in the morning.

At least, his business associates could not know that disordered papers were gathered in appalling disarray inside—that unfinished tasks were hidden under the all-hiding desk top.

But the trend is now towards the flat-top desk. It does not conceal so well. It automatically enforces completion of the day's work each day.

David Gibson, a business expert of Cleveland, Ohio, once declared that the chief executive should have no desk at all.

There is something about a desk which impels one to cling to it, to hover over it, and which makes a man uneasy when he leaves it.

If he has no desk, he has no apron-strings. He may go freely about his store or plant, making suggestions, passing upon important questions, rendering timely decisions.

Routine is left to subordinates. They really can handle it, you know, better than you can. An executive must get away from the idea of doing everything himself. He is there to think and to plan and to manage. That is his job. He should do nothing which an employee could do just as well.

Think about Mr. Gibson's idea. Does your desk fascinate you? Do you feel uneasy when you leave it? Sell it, give it to some employee and get away from it.

You will find that your efficiency will be increased and your time made to produce better results.

THE OTHER SIDE.

They say that Jinxon beats his wife, when he needs exercise; and if his home is full of strife, the fault with Jinxon lies. This morning sundry neighbors came to my ancestral caves, and said, "It is a beastly shame the way that guy behaves. Remonstrance is of no avail, though protests have been strong, and so we'll ride him on a rail, if you will go along." I said, "if Jinxon is at fault he on a rail should ride; you've heard one tale—now call a halt and hear the other side. If I should gayly trot along, and thus your course indorse, and then find out we all were wrong, I'd perish of remorse. Perhaps he could a tale relate that would afflict our souls, of bread that has a grindstone's weight, or burned and bricklike rolls. Perhaps the crockery is flung by one he fain would pet; perhaps a tireless nagging tongue his reason has upset. His wife was married once before, by gossips it is said; perchance she proves a frightful bore by bragging of the dead. It may be she is prone to rake his pockets for the mon; it may be that she fries a steak, when broiling should be done. Oh, prithee, neighbors, have a care that justice shall prevail, before you take him from his chair, and seat him on a rail!"

Letters To The Editor

HAVE YOU STOPPED TO THINK?

April 19, 1921.

Editor Gazette and Republican:

The public school will soon be closed and the boys of the town will be turned loose to roam the fields and fish. Some are going to the lake side and some to the mountains visiting uncles and aunts. Some are going to woodcraft school, military camp and a variety of summer resorts. In our neighboring cities the Y. M. C. A. is playing a large part in the city boys' life. But what is your boy going to do? This is the question that comes to the mind of the resident in a small town that does not have a Y. M. C. A.

Quite true the boy is going to find some sort of employment. We would expect him to. Every boy is anxious to earn his own spending money, but are we going to stand by and see the need of some kind of recreation and training, for our boy and do nothing?

In the Y. camp the boy is trained for service, promptness in obeying and in playing the game fair. He is trained to swim, to row and many aquatic games, which prove useful in real life. This is a preparation for real living. Then again the spiritual warfare of the lad is not forgotten. In many summer camps an hour is given to the study of trees, collections of many varieties, wonders of nature which broadens the boys' views of life.

The art of preparing a meal in the open must not be neglected. In the absence of play grounds and places of recreation, can't the small town give something to its boys?

Let us make the boy feel he is not forgotten in the busy whirl of business life. Consult your club, see what they are willing to do. Ask your Sunday school superintendent what might be done. Talk it over with your minister.

TAKE PART OF JAPANESE

Defiance.—Every guest took the part of a Japanese at a banquet given here in honor of Wilson P. Minton, an alumnus of Defiance college and foreign mission secretary of the Christian church who has just returned from an extended tour in Japan.

Following the dinner, in Trowbridge hall, a humorous after-dinner program was enjoyed, including a discussion of "How to Increase the Size of the Japanese, Hen Eggs." Mr. Minton talked on the needs of Japanese women.

A WORD TO TH WISE

In March I was called to the bedside of my sister in Brewton, Alabama. She was given up to die and was almost dead. Talked in a whisper. Doctors said nothing but an operation would save her and she was too weak for that. Her color was yellow as a pumpkin and she was filled with gas. That day I heard of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy and went and got a bottle for her. In three weeks she was able to be about and walked a mile to church. I am praising your medicine to everyone. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. All drug stores.

AN XENIA MAN GIVES EVIDENCE

The value of local evidence is indisputable. It is the kind of evidence we accept as true because we know we can prove it for ourselves. There has been plenty of such evidence in the Xenia papers lately, and this straightforward testimony has established a confidence in the minds of Xenia people that will not be easily shaken.

H. M. Rontzong, Fairground View, Xenia, says: "For several years I have used Doan's Kidney Pills whenever I have had any symptoms of kidney disorder and I have had excellent results. My kidneys became inflamed and when I bent over, I could hardly straighten up. Doan's Kidney Pills, which I got at Sayre & Hemphill's Drug Store, helped me in a few days. I am always ready to recommend Doan's because I know they are reliable."

Price 50c. at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Rontzong had. Foster-Milburn Co., Mfrs., Buffalo, N. Y.

PIMPLY? WELL, DON'T BE

People Notice It. Drive Them Off with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets

A pimply face will not embarrass you much longer if you get a package of Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets. The skin should begin to clear after you have taken the tablets a few nights.

Cleanse the blood, bowels and liver with Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets, the successful substitute for calomel; there's no sickness or pain after taking them.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets do that which calomel does, and just as effectively, but their action is gentle and safe instead of severe and irritating. No one who takes Olive Tablets is ever cursed with a "dark brown taste," a bad breath, a dull, listless, "no good" feeling, constipation, torpid liver, bad disposition or pimply face.

Olive Tablets are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil; you will know them by their olive color.

Dr. Edwards spent years among patients afflicted with liver and bowel complaints, and Olive Tablets are the immensely effective result. Take one or two nightly for a week. See how much better you feel and look. 15c and 30c.

Washington, April 19.—Secretary Wallace announced he would hold hearings on the proposal that certain changes be made in federal wheat grading requirements particularly for "hard red spring wheat."

FARM LABOR SHOWS DECLINE 25 PER CENT SINCE A YEAR AGO

The cost of farm labor has fallen about 25 percent during the last year, according to County Farm Agent Ford S. Prince.

Salaries that averaged $52 a month with board a year ago, are now in the discard, according to Mr. Prince who says that $40 a month with board is now being paid, showing a decline of about 25 percent.

Wages in other counties have declined in the same proportion, the amount being paid farm hands, being between $38 and $42 a month, with a range of from $29 in Brown and Highland counties to $54 in Perry county and $50 in Cuyahoga.

It is believed that the decline can be laid to some extent at the door of increased use of farm machinery, while the fact that farmers believe they can not pay as much as formerly due to the decrease in prices paid for farm products, has a great part to play in the decrease of wages for labor.

STATE LEGISLATURE RECONVENES MONDAY AFTER VACATION

Columbus, O., April 18.—Following a brief recess, both branches of the state legislature will reconvene here this evening. Since the adjournment is expected not later than May 1.

adopt a tax-on amendment to the state constitution will be considered at the caucus.

Effort will be made, it is said, to amend the Graham bill so as to meet the objection of women voters against extension of existing terms of county precinct and state committee.

By way of minor emphasis of the line of cleavage between house and senate, it is of possible interest to note that when the assembly resumes its sessions Monday evening, the house will be working on Columbus time, under the daylight saving plan, which set Columbus clocks ahead an hour two weeks ago, while the senate retains the central standard system. Both houses go into session at 5 p. m., but because of the two ways of "marking time" the house will go in an hour before the senate.

TWO—BIG FEATURES—TWO

THE NEW BUICK

IS A REAL 1921 MODEL

The Buick which you buy today is a real 1921 Model. It embraces not only the basic engineering which has made Buick famous, but all the improvements, developments and refinements which the most thorough and exacting tests up to this time have proven worth while.

Changing the color of the paint on a 1920 Model does not make it a 1921 Model, nor does putting a lot of "gimcracks" on the dash have that result. It must go deeper than that.

We learn improved methods of carburation, of oiling; we learn that certain steels are better for certain parts of the car, than which have been in general use. We find methods of improving the electrical equipment and so on down the line.

So when you buy a 1921 Buick you get not only all the features which have made of it a world-famous car, but you get an up-to-the-minute model, one of the very few obtainable.

CAR OWNERS—Now is the time to have your car gone over and put in shape. Our Repair Department will give you the best service; only the best Mechanics employed, and with our labor charges reduced to you, you will save money by bringing your car to us for your repairs and supplies.

Our Top Department will repair your top or curtains, tell you what cost will be before we start; also our Tire Department will repair your casings and tubes while you get other work done.

It will pay you to see us for prices on tires, oils and accessories, as we have pre-war prices. No one lower on quality goods.

DR. EINSTEIN'S WIFE
UNDERSTANDS HIM
BUT NOT THEORIES

New York.—What is his wife like?

How often we say that of a man in the public eye! Everyone wonders what sort of woman interests and holds the affection of a great man—everyone is curious as to the characteristics of the one he has chosen for his helpmate.

The world wants to know whether the genius has married a woman in sympathy with his ideals or opposes to them; whether she likes the things that interest him or not; whether she mothers him or bothers him.

I called upon Professor Albert Einstein, and attempted to discuss with him his theory of "Relativity." Professor Einstein, although a discoverer of revolutionary scientific theories which tend to obliterate time and space, a distinguished physicist and lecturer is a member of the Zionist delegation headed by Dr. Chaim Weizmann which is here to offer to the consideration of Jews in America plans for a great university to be erected in Jerusalem.

STOIC TALKING ABOUT THEORIES

A gracious and charming little woman met the writer at the door and begged her to desist at least from attempts to discuss "relativity" with its discoverer.

"My husband," it was Mrs. Einstein who spoke—"is so overwrought with requests for discussions that he has decided not to say any more about his theories; that is for the present."

Just then Mr. Einstein came forward. Tall, suave in manner, with high forehead and mop of black hair as his only professional symptoms, the scientist looked at his wife questionably and was told what was up.

The two make a vivid contrast in appearance. Mrs. Einstein is of medium stature, with light brown hair and gray eyes, a well-poised woman who combines dignity with a pleasant vivacity of manner. Her dark brown frock of satin and velvet, trimmed with marten fur bands, belies the frequent assumption that the learned and their near of kin affect the dowdy and careless in dress.

Einstein is a great Jewish personage, as well as a distinguished physicist. He is actively interested in the university plan, according to his wife, who speaks English fluently and who acted as interpreter. "In Europe, in the Far East," she translated for me from her husband's statement, "there are so many poor Jewish families who are without homes. Their children have great potentialities. Their young men need an institution where education can be offered them. Hence this plan to establish a university in Jerusalem. Poor students now have no place to study and if help is not given will be unfitted for life."

"As for the outbreaks of Anti-Jewish sentiment, of which we hear here and there at times, my husband believes they are caused by passions let loose by war, the hatred of nation against nation and race against race."

RESPECTS WOMAN'S INTELLIGENCE

Professor Einstein stood at the window whence he looked west over Forty-second street, great thoroughfare where traffic dashes along against time and where skyscrapers seem to defy all natural laws. Mrs. Einstein smiled and repeated that we had a small chance of getting the professor to discuss his theory.

"Perhaps he thinks a woman wouldn't be really interested enough to understand?" And she translated this for him.

Vehement denial from the scientist followed.

"No, he doesn't agree with that," Mrs. Einstein said. "He thinks women are the equal of men in understanding. It is simply that he can't give enough time to explain it to you."

"I myself can't comprehend it, and I think few women can," she admitted. "No I'm not a scientist. I believe two scientists could marry though, and live happily, but such is not the case with our marriage."

"I am just a wife; my husband likes a rest when he comes home—he has enough science elsewhere," she laughed and was compelled by the discoverer of "Relativity" to translate again.

The Einsteins have two grown daughters in Europe, Margot and Lisa. Mrs. Einstein is a cousin of her present husband and her maiden name was like Einstein.

Professor Einstein is not a one-sided person, all of whose energies are bent in one direction. He is an accomplished violinist and he adds yachting to his hobbies being a keen sportsman.

Their family circle is not a small one by any means since it includes two sons of the scientist by a former marriage. Both the physicist and his wife are citizens of Switzerland.

The fame which visited them almost "overnight" as European journals have described it and which has made them citizens of the world nevertheless has left them unassuming and unfalteringly good humored, despite the various demands fame has brought with her.

Dorothy Arnold Mystery Solved?
Parents Know Fate, Says Officer

New York.—(Special)—Has the mystery surrounding the sudden disappearance eleven years ago of Dorothy Arnold, New York heiress, been solved.

Police Captain John H. Ayres, head of the bureau of missing persons, was quoted in a New York paper a few days ago as saying: "The Dorothy Arnold mystery has been solved. Dorothy Arnold is no longer listed as a missing person."

Later Ayres said his department had not solved the mystery, but that he was convinced the Arnold family felt satisfied in their own minds of what happened to Miss Arnold.

The disappearance of the heiress was followed by a world-wide search, the cost of which was estimated at more than $100,000. Suddenly the Arnold family appeared to lose interest in the case, though at the Arnold home it was stated no trace had been found of the missing girl.

It was a little before noon on December 12, eleven years ago, that Miss Arnold left her home at No. 103 East 79th street, telling her mother she was going to purchase an evening gown. She was a healthy, pretty girl of good social standing, without a sorrow in the world so far as the public ever learned and without love entanglements.

After leaving her home she was seen twice. Once was at the 59th street store of Park & Tilford, where she purchased a box of candy. From there she went to Brentano's where she bought a book called "An Engaged Girl's Sketches."

Her mother had supposed she was going to a Fifth avenue department store for the gown she had contemplated buying. No trace of her having been there was ever uncovered. It was as if she had dissolved into thin air after leaving the book store at Fifth avenue and 27th street—and vanished on crowded Fifth avenue at between noon and 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

What was considered a suggestive clue was a packet of love letters written by George C. Griscom

Dorothy Arnold

Jr. of Pittsburgh which were found soon after Miss Arnold disappeared. Griscom returned from a tour in Italy and admitted friendship for the girl. He professed to be anxious to marry her.

NESBIT TAKES OVER
COMMERCIAL WORK

Wilbur D. Nesbit, familiarly known as "Dick" Nesbit, a Cedarville product, and author of "Your Flag and My Flag," and a number of other poems and works, is now practically entirely engaged in commercial work, as head of a large advertising writing concern.

Mr. Nesbit instead of devoting his talents to his poems and other writings, is writing advertising news, practically altogether. A book just issued by the B. F. Goodrich Rubber Company of Akron entitled "The Golden Year of Goodrich," has been written by him, the publication giving a history of the rubber industry and of the Goodrich Company. It is illustrated with photographs and with paintings by W. T. Benda, the artist. The book is issued as a souvenir of the fiftieth year of Goodrich in the rubber industry.

The following is symbolic of Mr. Nesbit's writing "Permanence in business can only be achieved by service. Planning, preparing and taking care of business is more than the work of a lifetime. It means the establishing of principles the perfecting of methods and the building up of a system that may be passed on to well chosen successors that the institution may live and grow."

"No, he doesn't agree with that," Mrs. Einstein said. "He thinks women are the equal of men in understanding. It is simply that he can't give enough time to explain it to you."

"I myself can't comprehend it, and I think few women can," she admitted. "No I'm not a scientist. I believe two scientists could marry though, and live happily, but such is not the case with our marriage."

"I am just a wife; my husband likes a rest when he comes home—he has enough science elsewhere," she laughed and was compelled by the discoverer of "Relativity" to translate again.

TASTY SAUCES FOR MEATS.
Egg Sauce—One-eighth cup butter, one hard-boiled egg, half teaspoonful salt, one-eighth teaspoon pepper, two and one-half tablespoons cornstarch, one and one-half cups water or fish stock. Melt the shortening, add the cornstarch and gradually pour on liquid. Boil five minutes. Chop the white of one hard-boiled egg and rub the yolk through a wire sieve. Add this to the sauce just before serving.

Mint Sauce—Wash and drain fresh young mint leaves and chop very fine. Put in a mixing bowl, add one teaspoon sugar to each two tablespoons of mint, mix well and set aside for a few minutes. Add three tablespoons good mild vinegar. Let stand a half hour or longer before straining. Serve with roast lamb.

Jelly Marshmallow Sauce—Melt one-half cup of apple jelly over hot water; remove and add one large tablespoon of marshmallow cream and beat until smooth. It too sweet dilute with two tablespoons of milk.

RECIPES FOR A DAY.

Banana Salad—Allow one small banana cut in half, lengthwise, for each serving, arrange on crisp lettuce with mild mayonnaise dressing. Chill before serving.

Finnan Haddie—Hold fish over flame until skin becomes loosened. Remove all skin, trim and wash carefully. Prepare a rich cream sauce, cut fish into serving portions, butter casserole, put in fish and sauce. Bake one half hour. Preparing the fish in this manner is a little more trouble than the canned variety, but is superior in flavor.

Orange Custard—Pare and slice thinly with sharp knife two oranges. Pour over half cup sugar and let stand while preparing custard. Put one pint milk into double boiler, separate two eggs, mix yolks with half cup sugar and add to warm milk, dissolve two tablespoons cornstarch with a little cold milk, add and cook until thick. Lastly add one-half teaspoon flavor and when cool pour over oranges. Beat whites stiff with tablespoon sugar, spread on top and brown. Peaches, either fresh, canned or dried, may be used in place of the oranges and are equally delicious. This can be prepared in the morning, also cole slaw, fish partly so, potatoes pared and allowed to stand in cold water at this time of year, makes little time required in preparing dinner.

TESTED RECIPES.

Fried Noodles—Break into small mixing bowl one egg, two tablespoons milk, one-half teaspoon of salt. Beat to blend and then add sufficient flour to make a stiff dough. Work well into the bowl, cover and let stand for ten minutes. Divide into three parts and roll on lightly floured board until as thin as paper. Cut as for bread noodles and then drop at once into smoking hot oil.

Pigtails—Scald and cleanse the tails. Cut the tails in two pieces and then roll them in flour and pat well. Fry a crisp brown in hot fat. Now add one-half cup of flour to the fat and brown well. Now add one cup of thick canned tomatoes, one and one-half cups of water, three onions (sliced), two stalks of diced celery, one-half pound of bean sprouts, one-quarter cup of soy sauce.

Cook very slowly for one and one-half hours. Season and serve with fried noodles.

keeps the spectators in an uproar. Others of the troupe appear in full dress suits, some in grotesque, padded costumes and permit the bulls to toss them in the air. appeared in various parts of the republic it was too much for one writer who in a contribution to the El Democrata of Mexico City, says in part:

WOMAN MATADOR

PAINTS
"The feminine has for many years been succeeding in almost every activity and the bull fight could not be excepted in this order. One group of feminine bull fighters was organized in Spain and some of the matadors used nick-names, such as 'Reverte,' 'Angelita,' etc. These were the pioneers of the feminine element in the bull rings. I think women should go to the bull fights to decorate the galleries and make the fiesta a merry occasion but they should not contribute to gloom because it is gloomy to see three or four women shivering with fear before an inoffensive bull, and also rolling in the dust while the public laughs. The bull fight, above all is a manly sport. The man is needed but women in the ring only bring down the scorn of the public. It was a pit last Sunday to see several women fly in panic amid laughter, notwithstanding the fact that the bulls were very tame. But when a member of the group rolled in the dirt and shivered with fear the feminine theories rolled with her."

WHIRLWIND DRIVE TO OBTAIN FUNDS FOR CLEANUP PLANNED

A one or two days whirlwind financial campaign in the Clean-Up cause is planned by the finance committee which held a meeting to discuss that proposal Monday afternoon.

It was originally decided that no financial campaign would be made, but the method chosen to secure necessary funds for the purpose does not seem feasible, and solicitors will be sent out over the city to ask contributions of $1 from citizens.

The money obtained will be used to cover the necessary expenses, and if any remains it will be donated to the beautification committee, to be expended in improving ugly spots about the city.

The days upon which the campaign is to be made will be decided at a meeting of the Clean-Up committee to be held Tuesday night at 7 o'clock at the Chamber of Commerce.

A generous response has been received to the appeal of the transportation committee for trucks, teams and wagons to haul away the trash.

JAIL BUSINESS DECREASES DECLARE PROHIBITION AGENTS

Washington. — The wave of depression has hit the jail business.

Deets Pickett, research secretary of the board of temperance, prohibition and public morals of the Methodist Episcopal Church, who makes it his business to keep a finger on the pulse of "Old Man Beelzebub," declares that prohibition has hit the jail business a smashing blow.

Pickett bases his claim upon a study of jail statistics in 200 county jails in fourteen States. He admits that the story does not take into consideration crime conditions in the larger cities but is merely a study of rural and small town crime.

For the purposes of his study Pickett has taken a census of 200 county jails which he says "were selected at random and the reports are intended to give indication as to the effect of prohibition upon rural and small town crime statistics."

MARYLAND ONLY EXCEPTION

"The totals show a decided shortage in jail operation under prohibition," says Pickett, "except for the State of Maryland, where there is an apparent increase due to the fact that reports for the years preceding prohibition are not complete."

"It is interesting to note that even New Jersey where the prohibition law has been ooorly enforced and where the governor did everything to break down respect for the laws, shows a decided improvement under prohibition."

WISCONSIN IMPROVES

The States in which Pickett made his jail census were California, Connecticut, Delaware, Illinois, Louisiana, Maryland, Massachusetts, Minnesota, Missouri, New Jersey, New York, Pennsylvania, Vermont, and Wisconsin.

Pickett's census shows that in these States 200 county jails in 1918 had a net population of 8,251 while in 1920 after the demise of the late lamented J. Barley corn, the population of these same jails withered to 5,357.

Giving further evidence of the depression in the jail business, Pickett's report shows that some wardens must be hard pressed for enough work to keep them out of mischief. Twenty seven jails in California had but 333 prisoners between them in 1920 when Pickett's census was taken, five jails in Connecticut had 287, two jails in Delaware 318, twenty two in Illinois, 153 seven in Louisiana 47; two in Maryland 62; nine in Massachusetts, 332 thirty four in Minnesota, 237; eighteen in Missouri 56; eight in New Jersey 1511; twenty three in New York 262; thirty in Pennsylvania, 1702; two in Vermont 9, and eleven in Wisconsin 48.

Pickett reports that the Middlesex County jail of Massachusetts went out of business completely in 1920 and consolidated with another county institution.

The Revolt of Vera Sanderson

SALLIE LEAVES FOR HOME
Chapter 19

Sallie did not go home the next day as she threatened, but the second day she did. I tried in every way to make her change her mind and stay with me, and would have succeeded had it not been for something Margaret said at luncheon.

Sallie spoke of going, mentioning a letter she had received. There was nothing in the letter to cause her to shorten her visit. She only used it as an excuse. Margaret had complained of the bills, and said that it was inconvenient for her to ask anyone to visit her because of them.

"I shall go tomorrow so you can fill my place," Sallie said quickly.

"I shall probably do so, and ask Vera to lend me her guest room, as father and mother are coming for a few days also. When shall I order an expressman to come for your trunk?"

"I will see that Sallie's luggage is attended to," I broke in, striving to hold back the tears. It had been so nice to have Sallie talk to and sympathize with me although I now know it was not good for me, nor conducive to my happiness—in the future.

"Very well," was all Margaret said.

That night Keith took us all to a concert. He acted truly sorry when I told him Sallie was going home, and expressed the wish that she come soon again.

Sallie and I talked nearly all night. I slept with her so we could, although Keith made all manner of fun of me. But I didn't mind so long as he allowed me to do it.

I felt so lonely after Sallie left. But I confronted myself by thinking that perhaps she had been right—that had she stayed she might say or do something that would react on me. She kept saying that she would, that she couldn't hold in much longer.

I needed some more clothes, and explained to Keith that both his friends and Margaret's were so smart—the women such good dressers—that I felt quite countrified, even though I had added a few things to my trousseau.

"I have been intending, Keith, to tell you that I need some new clothes," I said with a certain diffidence. Keith occasionally gave me some money and had just then given me $25. It was embarrassing to hint that I needed more.

"Yes, I think you do need a few stylish things. I will ask Margaret to go with you and select what is necessary."

"Oh, Keith! Won't you please go with me instead?" Was I never to be allowed to choose my own clothes? My heart sank, all desire to have them faded as I looked at his face stern and angry because of my question.

"Margaret will accompany you. And once for all, Vera, I object very strongly to your attitude whenever I suggest you take my sister's advice. Margaret is a wonderful woman. One in a thousand. When you are older, more experienced, you will appreciate her."

I said no more then, but after Keith left I just walked the floor and declared over and over that I wouldn't put up with it, I wouldn't let his sister spoil my life. But it is one thing for a girl in my position to say such a thing, and another to prevent it.

"Keith has asked me to go with you to choose a dress," Margaret remarked at breakfast the next morning.

"Two, Margaret," Keith spoke up. "Get a nice dinner dress, and an afternoon gown, shoes and stockings if necessary, and a new hat. I think the one Vera wore yesterday vary becoming."

"So do I!" Margaret selected it," I exclaimed.

"It was suitable for the purpose for which I designed it," she said angrily.

"And cheap!" I couldn't help it—the words just came of themselves. "I shall refuse to shop with your wife, Keith, if she uses that tone toward me." It was almost funny the way she would say "your wife" when she was angry.

"Vera is young, Margaret. You must not mind. And Vera I want once more to impress upon you that I consider Margaret's taste excellent. That I do not like that hat is no sign she is in the wrong. It may be the way you wear it."

"How clever you are Keith! I hated to say that for fear you might think me unsisterly. But if Vera wears her things badly, no one but herself is to blame if she doesn't make a smart appearance. There is as much in wearing clothes, as in selecting them." Triumphant, again, Margaret had put me in the wrong once more.

This Letter Will Tell You How

"I suffered terribly every month, and was always tired and nervous, and had indigestion, and often could not do a thing. I was this way about two years, and had to stay home with my mother. I tried several medicines, then I found a book of yours, and mamma told me to try the Compound. So I got a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and it certainly worked wonders with me. I have taken six bottles of it, and am still taking it when I feel the need of it. I have already recommended it to a number of working girls, who are taking it. I am working now, and stand up all day and feel fine. I am glad to say that Pinkham's medicine did a lot for me and for my mother, and we only wish we had taken it a long time before."—Rose Schoeff, 4876 Annunciation St., New Orleans, La.

This letter is but one of a great number received every year from women, young and old, and from almost every walk of life. These letters testify to the merit of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Miss Schoeff works for her living, but on account of sickness was obliged to stay at home for two years. During this period she suffered terribly at times. She tried several medicines without finding relief. Finally she tried Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, and in this letter tells what it did for her.

The Vegetable Compound contains no narcotics or harmful drugs, and can be taken in safety by any woman. Your livelihood may depend on your health. So try
